Dear Reader:

Hello my name is DeAnthony, I am in sixth grade we are currently learning the effects of global warming and the topic I chose was diseases because if you are a person who wants to be aware of what it is happening through out the world. I think if everybody helps with protection of the world then the spreading of diseases because of Global warming will slow down, which is passed from people.

People think that global warming is just normal and will happen no matter what people do because the people think that global warming might go all over the world. And someday destroy the world because it is a natural cycle. Some of the scientists think that the sun's heat waves cause global warming and people can't do anything about it except for destroy the sun, which is not an option. I still believe that Global warming is caused by pollution. If we don't do anything about this many people will die because of it.

My opinion is that I believe that humans cause Global warming because diseases are spreading which causing deaths around the world. Just like malaria because it is a bug that spreads a disease that is deadly and it is easily spread thought out the world because basically half the deaths are from diseases. Now that Global warming has caused malaria it can cause humans to go extinct. If we don't stop now global warming will consume the world.

People should stop pulooting with a bunch of chemicols people dont need and the deaths might stop

Sincerely,

DeAnthony
